Rochester, NY. Nixon Peabody LLP is pleased to share that commercial litigator Carolyn Nussbaum has been selected by BTI Consulting Group as a 2024 "Client Service All-Star."

Based in the firm's Rochester, New York, office, Carolyn is a member of the Complex Disputes practice with more than 40 years of experience in the courtroom and before arbitration panels defending companies and their officers and directors in securities and governance, financial, and complex business disputes. She served as the managing partner of Nixon Peabody's Rochester office from 2011 to 2017.

Carolyn is a leader in the legal profession, having served as president of the Monroe County Bar Association and the Greater Rochester Association for Women Attorneys, as well as an elected delegate to the New York State Bar Association and a fellow of the New York State Bar Foundation. She has been appointed by the courts to the statewide Commercial Division Advisory Committee, as well as the Character and Fitness Committee of the Seventh Judicial District and the Local Rules Committee of the US District Court for the Western District of New York. Carolyn's community engagement extends well beyond the legal arena. She is general counsel and a member of the Executive Committee of the Rochester Area Community Foundation, a past president and current member of the Board of Governors of the Jewish Community Federation of Rochester, a past co-chair of the Levine Center to End Hate, an initiative of the Jewish Community Federation of Rochester, and on the Finance Committee of The Jewish Federations of North America.

To select the "Client Service All-Stars," BTI Consulting conducts an independent study each year to find and celebrate the attorneys who top legal decision-makers identify by name that they say deliver the best client service.

In addition to recognizing Carolyn as a “Client Service All-Star,” BTI Consulting also honored Nixon Peabody among its Client Service 100—a ranking of law firm client service in the corporate law firm space. This recognition demonstrates the firm’s dedication to providing exceptional client experiences.
