Boston, MA. Nixon Peabody's Intellectual Property practice and 13 of the firm's attorneys have been recognized as industry leaders by the intellectual property business media organization IAM.

The 2024 edition of the IAM Patent 1000: The World's Leading Patent Professionals recommends Nixon Peabody for patent litigation in California with a bronze ranking, highlighting the firm's work in healthcare and life sciences. The guide also recommends Nixon Peabody for patent prosecution in both Massachusetts and Illinois, noting that the firm helps clients maximize their patent assets by seamlessly integrating prosecution, litigation, and transactional capabilities.

The firm's hybrid Intellectual Property practice guides clients through the full IP lifecycle—from mining an organization's research and development activities to capture and protect intellectual property to supporting the commercialization and branding of those assets, enforcing intellectual property rights, and defending against competitors.
